

Welcome

Welcome to the latest edition of PianoDisc's Music Catalog.

Inside you'll find thousands of songs in every genre of music. Not only is PianoDisc the leading manufacturer of piano player systems, but our collection of music software is unrivaled in the industry.

The highlight of our library is the Artist Series, an outstanding collection of music performed by some of the world's finest pianists. You'll find recordings by Peter Nero, Floyd Cramer, Steve Allen and dozens of Grammy and Emmy winners, Billboard Top Ten artists and the winners of major international piano competitions.

Since we're constantly adding new music to our library, the most up-to-date listing of available music is on our website, on the Emusic pages, at www.PianoDisc.com. There you can see each individual disc with complete song listings and artist biographies (when applicable) and also purchase discs online. You can also order by calling 800-566-DISC.

For those who are new to PianoDisc, below is a brief explanation of the terms you will find in the catalog:

PD/CD/OP: There are three PianoDisc software formats: PD represents the 3.5" floppy disk format; CD represents PianoDisc's specially-formatted CDs; OP represents data disks for the Opus system only.

MusiConnect: A Windows software utility that allows Opus7 downloadable music to be burned to CD via iTunes.

Acoustic: These are piano-only recordings.

Live/Orchestrated: These CD recordings feature live accompaniment by everything from vocals or a single instrument to a full-symphony orchestra. They can only be played on systems that have internal CD players (or systems that are connected externally to CD players) and speakers.

Symphony: These discs, featuring synthesized accompaniment, require systems with an onboard SymphonyPro sound module and speakers.

Thank you again for choosing PianoDisc. This remarkable system will bring you the joy of live music for years to come.

Artist Series: Tom Grant

Tom Grant is pretty young to be a founding father, but that's just what he is...of Smooth Jazz. This fusion of traditional jazz and modern pop surfaced in the mid '80s, with Grant among its first hit-making artists. His top-ten records in that genre include "Mango Tango", "Night Charade", "In My Wildest Dreams" and "The View From Here." Grant is great in any genre, however, and if you like R&B, New Age, Jazz and Pop (or any fusion thereof), you'll like Tom Grant.

Joe Augustine plays jazz according to his own rules, which he describes as "the Five T's: Touch, Time, Technique, Talent and Temperament. My goal is to play as much music as possible, accurately and with taste, utilizing the least amount of notes." We think that when it comes to music, sometimes less is more, and Joe's approach is just right — particularly in a collection of great torch songs like these.

Artist Series: Leon Bates — Brahms To Ellington

Leon Bates is one of today's most popular classical artists. He performs traditional concert repertoire with orchestras around the world, but he's just as well known for his Gershwin and for playing works by lesser-known composers. This collection shows Bates at his best – displaying his vitality, sensitivity and style in everything from a Brahms intermezzo to Duke Ellington's "Caravan." If you agree that variety is the spice of life, Leon Bates is the pianist for you.

Artist Series: Jacqueline Schwab - Songs of the Civil War

"Jacqueline Schwab brings more feeling and intensity to music than anyone I know. Her playing is insistent, physical, heartfelt and unusually moving." –Ken Burns

With such strong feelings about her artistry, it's no wonder that award-winning documentary filmmaker, Ken Burns, chose Jacqueline Schwab to play on and create original music for the soundtrack of his groundbreaking PBS series "The Civil War".

Artist Series: Paul Smith

Paul Smith earned the nickname "Hollywood's favorite pianist" for his many years as staff pianist for major movie and television studios. He worked with nearly every big name in Hollywood, including Bing Crosby and Sammy Davis, Jr., and spent twelve years accompanying the great Ella Fitzgerald. We were introduced to Smith by Steve Allen, who told us, "There's one pianist you have to record: Paul Smith. He's the best – nobody can touch him." Artist Series: Leon Bates — Brahms To Ellington

Leon Bates is one of today's most popular classical artists. He performs traditional concert repertoire with orchestras around the world, but he's just as well known for his Gershwin and for playing works by lesser-known composers. This collection shows Bates at his best – displaying his vitality, sensitivity and style in everything from a Brahms intermezzo to Duke Ellington's "Caravan." If you agree that variety is the spice of life, Leon Bates is the pianist for you.

Artist Series: Floyd Cramer

Floyd Cramer's patented slip-note style of playing was an important part of the "Nashville Sound" that was created during the Golden Age of Country Music. Cramer recorded with scores of country music giants before striking out on his own solo career. His million-selling hit songs, "Last Date" and "On The Rebound" are both featured here.

PIANOSYNC

PianoDisc's new PianoSync technology provides piano accompaniment to CDs by your favorite artists and groups. Through iTunes installed on your Mac or PC, you load the CD that matches the PianoSync performance that you purchased from PianoDisc. Use a Creator CD or the MusiConnect software utility to merge the two, and you burn a CD of the resulting file. That disc will play your piano live, in sync with the original artist's music, which is heard through your speakers.

Note: You must purchase the original artist's CD separately; do not purchase a downloadable version. A link to the CD listing on Amazon is available on our website listing of each PianoSync album. Opus7 systems have the Creator technology built-in, and use Opus7 PianoSync files to provide true stereo accompaniment. If you have an Opus7 system, purchase the Opus7 PianoSync files rather than the Creator discs. As of Fall 2007, the MusiConnect utility is only compatible with Windows XP. A release planned for early 2008 will work with all versions of Windows, as well as Mac OS X.

Artist Series: Sara Faust & Tien-Ni Chen — The Nutcracker Suite

PianoDisc presents its first interactive recording with the one piano, four hands version of Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker Suite, featuring duo pianists Sara Faust and Tien-Ni Chen. The first version of this classical favorite is complete, featuring both artists. Then each artist plays her own part, primo or secondo, unaccompanied. This allows a pianist to play either part of the great duet alone, with PianoDisc as the perfect partner.

Joe Augustine plays jazz according to his own rules, which he describes as "the Five T's: Touch, Time, Technique, Talent and Temperament. My goal is to play as much music as possible, accurately and with taste, utilizing the least amount of notes." We think that when it comes to music, sometimes less is more, and Joe's approach is just right – particularly in a collection of great torch songs like these.

Tom Grant is pretty young to be a founding father, but that's just what he is...of Smooth Jazz. This fusion of traditional jazz and modern pop surfaced in the mid '80s, with Grant among its first hit-making artists. His top-ten records in that genre include "Mango Tango", "Night Charade", "In My Wildest Dreams" and "The View From Here." Grant is great in any genre, however, and if you like R&B, New Age, Jazz, Pop (or any fusion thereof), you'll like Tom Grant.

When we approached Jessica Williams to record a second Artist Series disk, she suggested this all-Ellington collection. She wanted to pay homage to the great pianist/composer, a man whose music has influenced generations of jazz pianists, herself included. Although she remains faithful to Ellington's original arrangements, there's no hiding Williams' own genius. Ellington inspired her – she will inspire you.

Artist Series: Richard Glazier Plays Arlen

If you're asking yourself, "Who's Arlen?" take a look at the list of his songs below. He wrote so many hits that Andre Previn once said, "counting them is like counting the gold bars at Fort Knox!"

Arlen even wrote the Number One song of the 20th century, "Over The Rainbow."

Artist Series: Floyd Cramer Plays Gospel Classics

Floyd Cramer is given credit for inventing the country piano sound. Although he made the note-slurring style famous, he told us that he hadn't really invented it, he'd heard it first in church. Cramer was a devout and spiritual man, and these simple gospel songs held a special place in his heart.

Artist Series: Tom Grant

Tom Grant is pretty young to be a founding father, but that's just what he is...of Smooth Jazz. This fusion of traditional jazz and modern pop surfaced in the mid '80s, with Grant among its first hit-making artists. His top-ten records in that genre include "Mango Tango", "Night Charade", "In My Wildest Dreams" and "The View From Here." Grant is great in any genre, however, and if you like R&B, New Age, Jazz and Pop (or any fusion thereof), you'll like Tom Grant.
